Every plan has been finally completed for the holding of viewer day in Anderson next Tuesday in connection with the Trade Day, a monthly event staged by the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, and Poster A. Whaley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday that he expected the city to be full of visitors Tuesday. He said that he had received numerous messages from ladies in all parts of the country inquiring about the "flower day" program and that he expected many of these to send exhibits of flowers to the contest, for no minimum price. The handsome vase to be given away for the best collection of flowers is now on display at the Chamber of Commerce, and it is being admired by all who see it.

This is the first time that such an affair has been attempted in Anderson and the ladies of both the city and the surrounding country are looking forward to the success of the flower day.

The flower day will be a great success.

Another pleasant feature of the day will be the piano clavier of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be loaned to the public to play during the day.

There will be a large number of the ladies of the county should participate with Mr. Whaley who has done his best in arranging this day and the public should their appearance by attending and by bringing as many of their bouquets as possible.
